

In those years we had it all

by John Salerno
(contact through Santa.net)

The decorations were all fancy.
Christmas trees were grand and tall.
But there was somehow something missing
in those years we had it all.

Family. News. All foreclosed homes.
Banks and name brands close each day.
We all know people out of work and home
Wonder will WE be that way?

But when we didn't have a worry
and bought regardless of the cost,
we gave our lives to making money...
Some special times were lost.

Step back a little from this scene.
View not by days by years
We've made it through worse than this before
Came out strong despite our fears.

And the thing about hard times we miss
During times we have it all:
With all eyes on making money
We don't know our kids at all.

Only home-made decorations this Christmas.
The tree may start out sparse and bland
But it will sparkle like never did before
Because I'll be there to hold your hand!

But it will sparkle like never did before
Because I'll be there to hold your hand!